Big Alumni Association Dinner Now Being Held at Administration Building

EXTRA!

O. Myking Mehus Is Addressing Group

Professor O. Myking Mehus of the Social Science Department of the State Teachers College is the chief speaker for the Association Dinner program this evening. Mr. Mehus, who has just risen to address the large group seated at the bitter-sweet bedecked tables, has managed to make the merry-makers understand that he is under bond not to talk more than twenty minutes. He is gallantly rising to the occasion of being the principal speaker on the program, and is adding the serious note to the activities by suggesting that Alma Mater should ring through the hearts and minds of the students in their every day work, and not merely on big special times such as the Homecoming Dinner, or at the special gatherings where it is easy to show emotion.

He is urging that members of the Association which includes all former students of the College should not forget to pay Association dues, subscribe for the College paper, send in constructive criticism, and suggestions for their own college in order that it may rank with and above other institutions in a similar class or with similar equipment. Mr. Mehus is suggesting that graduates and students of the College should send good students to their Alma Mater, since this will mean outstanding graduates who will reflect honor and glory on the College and on those at the College who are giving their best to the students. Mr. Mehus has mentioned the fact that a college is judged largely by what its graduates do and by the success with which they meet their life's work.

The speaker is urging that the association so organize that it can make a study of what it can and should do to help the College to live up to its responsibility and opportunities.

While we can't tell just exactly what Mr. Mehus will say next it is evident from the way he is quaffing his glass of H₂O that there are many things running thru his mind which he would like to tell us that we as an association should do—and if it just weren't for that Bond Agreement!—

FROM OUR REPORTER

Our roving reporter succeeded in obtaining several interesting statements from certain members of the faculty and is taking the liberty of publishing these statements without their consent.

Mr. Lamkin, in discussing association gatherings said, "Nothing is more valuable to the College than regular meetings of the Alumni Association. I feel that these meetings should be made up of part good times and part serious thought. I am sorry that I am not able to be present at the dinner tonight."

Miss Mattie Dykes:

Miss Mattie Dykes, '10, an ex-president of our Association and the present acting chairman of the Department of English of the College, is keenly enthusiastic over the "CAMADERIE" of our meetings. She informed our roving reporter of her certainty that every member present tonight would remember the occasion with much pleasure and anticipated that personal inspiration which each guest would derive from tonight's spirit of fellowship would be invaluable.

She further added, "They ain't nothin' that'll jazz up a long hand-over of the blues or the willies like scottin' your dogs under the table with a gang of other school bell wigglers, that yuh can grose the grub-chute with, when you park your elbows on the old oil-cloth together and slop up the gravy side by side, your heart fills up and your mouth runs over—unless you keep your food-trap cluttered up with vittles all the time, like some of the has-beens on this mob, not mentionin' no names, does already yet. We ain't got but one crack at Shakespeare's old Seven Stages, anyhow, we gotta put the bee on some o' the ruts we get in."

your dogs under the table with a gang of other school bell wigglers, that yuh can grose the grub-chute with, when you park your elbows on the old oil-cloth together and slop up the gravy side by side, your heart fills up and your mouth runs over—unless you keep your food-trap cluttered up with vittles all the time, like some of the has-beens on this mob, not mentionin' no names, does already yet. We ain't got but one crack at Shakespeare's old Seven Stages, anyhow, we gotta put the bee on some o' the ruts we get in."

I gotta yeh to get mushy with some of the old gang at that feed. It'll be a led-pipe cinch to make it a star-spangled date if the outfit will only have some snappy ideas to loosen up with. I'm gonna take a sock full o' sand to work on some of them old fossils if they don't. And that's what we're gonna be there for, ain't it? "N'est ce pas, s'il vo-ul plait?"

We heartily agree with Miss Dykes, —it is!

Our roving reporter succeeded in getting Miss Dow's mind off French frugality and simplicity of living long enough to say, "I always enjoy the Alumni Association Banquets. I think they are remarkable factors for creating school spirit. I would suggest, however, that an improvement might be made in the dinners by introducing a few of the French habits of economy, and a little more of the clear cut style of the French into the speeches."

Bert Cooper stopped long enough in the carrying out of his many duties as Secretary of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers Association, to say to the reporter, "Ever since I graduated

OUR CAMPUS

It is not necessary to go to the Ozarks to see some of the most beautiful scenery in Missouri—it is on our campus. Perhaps some seeing such beauty every day think it is commonplace; others discover some new hidden charm. A stroll up the long walk almost any day this fall is as good as a trip.

The birches have been converted into a fountain; showering gold on all sides. A view from the fourth story window reveals a world of color—dainty joyous green of poplars, dark, whispering, mysterious green of pines, crimson and orange of sugar maples in the park, gold of chestnut, birch and elm, silver of Russian olives.

The trees seem to represent all kinds of characteristics; the chestnuts seem a friendly sociable group of common folk; the poplars, tall, stately, graceful, view the College with a kingly reserve; the elms are the soldiers keeping guard along the walk.

Sunshine makes our campus radiant, mist makes it mysterious, and moonlight makes it a fairyland.

—Sarah Moore

WELCOME! HOMECOMERS

Old friends, we who are playing hosts now, just as you have done on former homecoming days, welcome you back—not to our campus but to yours, not to our school but to your school. We feel that you are a part of this College more than the walls themselves. It is you who have laid the foundations of achievement and built the towers of ideals.

Memories, renewed friendships, these are the reasons for homecoming. "Do you remember—" is heard on every hand. Do you suppose we can find our initials on the birches? Don't you remember that we carved them there the Sunday afternoon before we graduated? Doesn't it look strange not to see the old brick smokestack? I could never forget our class play.

When we who are here to join your ranks and return on homecoming days we hope to find that something we have left behind is making our college a better place.

Former students may you have a joyous homecoming; and visitors may you too have a happy time in our midst.

—Sarah Moore

Miss Geraldine Lawrence of Craig was the guest of Pauline Walker last week-end.

from the College in the early days of its existence, I have felt motivated to attend every gathering of the Alumni Association when possible. And once I am present at these gatherings, they always furnish great motivation for me to go on doing bigger and better things in the way of spreading the idea of "Vitalized Agriculture to the many rural schools of the country."

GREETINGS TO OUR VISITORS

Every year the College faculty and students look forward to the time when old students as well as new friends come to Maryville to the Association. It means renewed life and interest and enthusiasm to meet those who are out doing the things we are talking about here. It means that we can do better work because you have been here, and we hope you can look back to the days which you spend here as days of profit and perpetual joy.

We are glad you have come!

S. T. C. Students Help Send Invitations

More than one thousand, two hundred invitations were sent to the alumni and former students of the College to attend the Alumni Association dinner which was held at six o'clock this evening in the Administration Building.

The first one hundred twenty-five members of the Alumni Association to make reservations received places at the dinner. The price was seventy-five cents for each plate.

Several students helped in mailing out the invitations to the hundreds of alumni and former students. Among those who gave their time and effort to the work were Genevieve Bucher, Sarah Moore, Mary Frances Clements, Maude Ella LeMar, Erman Barrett, Lawrence Shaffer, Gordon Trotter, and Clarence Worley.

For lack of a complete list of former students and funds to buy stamps, not all former students received the special invitation.

Miss Bucher, a student at the College, is alumni editor on the staff of the Northwest Missourian.

CHEER UP AND SING!
Remember the teakettle—Tho up to its neck in hot water it still singeth!

"Alma Mater"

Let your voices loudly ringing,
Echo far and near;
Songs of praise thy children singing,
To thy memory dear.

(Chorus)

Alma Mater! Alma Mater!
Tender, fair and true;
Grateful sons with love unfeeling,
All their vows renew.

Years may dim our recollections,
Time its change may bring;
Still thy name in fond affection,
Evermore we sing.
(Chorus)

"Dear Old S. T. C."

Of all the countries in the world there's none that can begin

To compare, in our opinion, with the one we're living in.

So we love to sing the glories of the food old U. S. A., and dear S. T. C.
(Chorus)

Glory, Glory old Missouri; Glory, Glory old Missouri,
Glory, Glory old Missouri, And dear old S. T. C.

When Gabriel blows his trumpet and we're called to go on high,
To where our Lord has built for us a mansion in the sky;
Up there we'll sing the glories of that heavenly home of ours,
And dear old S. T. C.
(Chorus)

"Missouri Waltz"

Hush-a-bye, ma baby, slumber time is coming soon,
Rest yo' head upon my breast while mammy hums a tune.
The sand man is callin' where shadows are fallin'.

While the soft breezes sigh as in days long gone by,
Way down in Missouri where I heard this melody,

When I was a pickaninny on my mammy's knee,
The darkeys were hummin' their banjos were strummin',

So sweet and low.

"Good-Night Ladies"

Good-night, ladies! Good-night ladies! Good-night, ladies!

We're going to leave you now.
Merrily we roll along, roll along, roll along,

Merrily we roll along, O'er the dark blue sea.

Farewell, ladies! Farewell, ladies! Farewell, ladies!

We're going to leave you now.
Merrily we roll along, roll along, roll along,

Merrily we roll along, O'er the dark blue sea.

Sweet dreams, ladies! Sweet dreams, ladies! Sweet dreams, ladies!

We're going to leave you now.
Merrily we roll along, roll along, roll along,

Merrily we roll along, O'er the dark blue sea.

"Carry Me Back to Old Virginia"

Carry me back to old Virginia, There's where the cotton and the corn and 'tatoes grow;

There's where the birds warble sweet in the Springtime.

There's where this old darkey's heart has longed to go.

There's where I labored so hard for old Massa,

Day after day in the fields of yellow corn.
No place on earth do I love more sincerely
Than old Virginia, the state where I was born.
(Chorus)—(Repeat first four lines).

"Old Fashioned Garden"

EXTRA!

All About the Frolic Now Going on

ELMER SAYS—

We will find out how much our Alumni can yell when we meet St. Benedict's College tomorrow afternoon.

But it carried me back to that dear little shack,
In the land of long ago. I saw an old-fashioned Missus,
Getting old-fashioned kisses,
In that old-fashioned garden, From an old-fashioned bean.

"Sailing"

Y'heave ho! my lads, the wind blows free,
A pleasant gale is on our lee;
And soon across the ocean clear
Our gallant bark shall bravely steer.

But ere we part from Freedom's shores tonite,
A song we'll sing for home and beauty bright.

Then here's to the sailor and here's to the soldier, too.

Hearts will beat for him upon the waters blue.
(Chorus)

Sailing, sailing, over the bounding main.
For many a stormy wind shall blow ere Jack comes home again!

Sailing, sailing, over the bounding main.
For many a stormy wind shall blow ere Jack comes home again!

"It is my opinion," said John Rush, in opening the meeting, "that the Northwest Missouri State College Alumni Association is just what its name implies—an association of good fellows."

When people with a common interest get together and have a good time, they will return to their daily grind with pleasant memories of the associations enjoyed, which will give them renewed inspiration to return for further good times. The College can have no better advertising through its association than such gatherings.

"As previously announced, we are here for a good time. There will be only one serious and solemn thought—but not yet."

WELCOME ALUMNI

Welcome, dear alumni friends! The student body is glad to welcome you back home once again. It is a thrilling moment when we can clasp your hand and form a never-ending chain of friendship.

Some of us, you do not know personally, and some of you, we do not know, but we are linked very closely together by a common friend—our Alma Mater. We invite you to share and enjoy our life here at S. T. C. for these few Homecoming days.

W. A. A. Have Open House

The Physical Education teachers attending the Teachers meeting witnessed the Sophomore-Freshman "Hockey" game, Thursday afternoon. Immediately thereafter they filed into the gym and enjoyed the initiation of the new W. A. A. members. This was followed by a general "got-together," which was very interesting and helpful. The W. A. A. later served these visiting teachers and old members of the W. A. A. with fresh older and doughnuts.

COLLEGE OATH
"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will respect and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Thirteenth Chair Is Now Under Way

The Picture Play Magazine for November has a page of scenes from the talkie production which is now being made of "The Thirteenth Chair," the play which the Dramatics Club is to give on November 19.

Margaret Wyche who was the original Madame LaGrange of the stage play is being filmed in this same role.

The rehearsals of "The Thirteenth Chair" are well under way. Mr. Miller complimented the cast on the work they are doing. A high type of performance should be expected of the finished play since several of the cast have had a year of experience on the amateur stage in this College and elsewhere.

The juvenile lead is held by Betty Sealeman. Miss Sealeman is possibly the best known of the cast as she has appeared many times in Dramatic productions. The opposite of the juvenile lead is admirably played by Wilbur Pettigrew. He is appearing in a roll new to those who have seen him before. In the present production he portrays the young lover to perfection.

Mrs. Crosby, the charming middle-aged hostess, is well played by Grace Morris. Vance Geiger has the part of Roscoe Crosby, the likable New York business man.

The part of Edward Wales around whose mysterious death the plot centers is taken by Clinton Morris who has played many parts in Dramatic productions here.

The role of Mary Eastwood, a sophisticated young society woman is well interpreted by Ruth Floren. Helen Trent, the Crosby's daughter is played by Patricia Arnold, while her husband Braddish Trent is done by Marvin Shamberger. The part of Howard Standish, a young business man, is held by Ellsworth Henkins. Philip Mason, an artist and a guest in the Crosby home is portrayed by Wiley Tolson who took the role of Benedict in "Much Ado About Nothing," presented by the seniors of 1928. The extremely feminine young lady, Elizabeth Erskine, is charmingly played by Ann Adams, and the part of Grace Standish, another young society bud, is taken by Vivian Kenball. Richard Nelson as Pollock, the butler, and Morris Moyer as Sergeant Dunn play their parts well.

Carl Leroy Fisher was well chosen for the part of the detective, Tim Donahue. This versatile actor has pleased many S. T. C. audiences in a variety of roles.

The real lead of the play, Madame LaGrange, the Irish medium, is delightfully done by Kable Ford. This difficult part is played with real sympathy and understanding.

A. H. Cooper Will Lecture in Omaha

Mr. Bert Cooper, acting head of the Education Department of the College, will appear on the Nebraska State Teachers Association Divisional programs at Holdrege, Nebraska on October 31, and at Omaha on November 1. Mr. Cooper will give one lecture at Holdrege and two lectures at Omaha. The lectures will concern Vitalized Agriculture.

Mr. Cooper's picture appears with the pictures of other convention speakers in "The Nebraska Educational Journal" for October 1929.

The Journal carries the following statement concerning him:

Mr. Cooper is well known in Nebraska for his work in Vitalized Agriculture with county superintendents and rural teachers. He was secured on special request of county superintendents in District Number 2. Under his instruction and leadership, the idea of Vitalized Agriculture is being made known to the teachers and county superintendents, and the work is making rapid progress.

Among the dads was F. H. Barbee, Superintendent of Schools at St. Joseph. Mr. Barbee is the father of Fred Barbee, a student at the College.

Tri Sigs Give Clever Party for Alpha Sigs

The pledges of the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority enjoyed a "date" party given by the pledges of the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority on Monday evening, October 21.

The Tri Sigma pledges, dressed as collegiate young men, called for their "Dates" and took them to the reading room at the College.

There they found the reading room changed into a miniature cabaret; davenport and small tables lined the wall. Autumn leaves were used on the windows and as light shades.

Soon after the guests arrived, dance programs in the form of date palm trees tied with red and white ribbons were given out.

Both a "kiss" dance and a "date" dance were given, during which trays of stuffed dates and kisses wrapped in red paper were passed.

Ruth Fields and Maude Ella LaMar furnished the music. During the serving, Velma Dowis sang several selections and Hermene Baur gave several specialty dances.

The refreshments consisted of dates rolled with whipped cream and coffee. Those who assisted in serving were: Geraldine Hunt, Verna Houghton, Grace Gallatin, Georgia Ellen Trusty, and Margaret Lindley.

Those present were: Katherine Gray, Clara Mae Shantz, Lois McCrary, Marian Gnan, Ruth Cook, Mary Kurtz, Loraine Harris, Vivian Kimball, Annamie Adams, Mary Margaret James, Vashti Conn, Margaret Sutton, Betty Hieker, Virginia Myers, Alberta Kunkel, Eunice Cox, Velma Dowis, Caroline Hefley, Maude Ella LaMar, Mildred Jacobs, Minniotta Knox, Estelle Campbell, Carmen Jenkins, Hermene Baur, Esther McMurry, Rebecca Botkin, Hazel Moore, Mary Alice Jones, Faye Bogard, and Constance Baur.

The Stroller

By I I I I.

Oh! Hello Everyone. Sure and I remember every last one of you.

They say people can go home when they can't go anywhere else. It that's the case, there must be a lot of teachers with no place to go from the looks of this home-coming crowd. And the Stroller joins his small voice and sturdy handshake in the great welcome that is extended to the teachers, alumni, and visitors.

The Stroller hates to change the subject so quickly, but he just has to tell how good Mary Frances Clements' add to be at T. L.'s. Once she gave her brother a perfectly lovely trade-last, and he told her she had a cute indignation.

There's talk of a back-to-the-farm movement in Maryville with the new milk plant and all. Smitty thought that he ought to do his part so he tried his hand at milking a cow. The Stroller understands that Orlo is now trying to get the Student Council to sponsor a series of cow-milking lessons. He thinks he might give lessons—if someone will furnish the cows.

Since he is six hundred miles from home, Ted Hodgkinson doesn't get a chance to enjoy the advantages of his father's presence very often. So, dad and son decided to room together while the former was in Maryville for Dads' Day. When Mr. Hodgkinson went to bed Friday night to get a little rest after his long trip, he put his trousers and his watch and pocketbook under his pillow for safe-keeping and went to sleep. Along towards morning, he awakened to find his pillow, trousers, and purse under his son's head. But the Stroller doesn't blame Ted for taking advantage of his opportunities. Dads' Day just comes once a year.

Now it is the Stroller's policy to cover all the news on his strolls about the campus. But occasionally, he will miss something. There was one thing along at the first of school, he was planning to set Coach Iba right about, but he just never got around to it. Not that it wasn't the coach's fault because he couldn't tell by the catalog numbers whether they were men's or women's gym classes. And several freshmen didn't seem to mind which section they got into. But what the Stroller wonders is, did educators intend that co-education be extended to gym classes. But anyway, it is all fixed up now, even if the Stroller did neglect his duty a little.

Time out—Stroller had to go up on 3rd floor and see how alumni association Homecoming Dinner frolic was progressing.

Yes, Oh Yes, it came off slick as a wig, and Mr. Melus didn't have to forfeit his bond either.

The Stroller advises that everyone bring his sled to school nowadays cause it feels just like "rabbit hunting weather" and that means snow.

People are beginning to wonder what week is coming next. Awhile back it was Exam Week. Last week was Dads' Week and now the "M" Club boys have labeled this one "Hell" Week, and while there are some people about the campus more dead than alive who think the week has been rightly designated by the boys, yet they wonder what is going to happen when those football boys will get so "dingie" over beating the Bears that they will go around carrying a football with them and such other regalia and decorations such as huge paddles on strings, around their necks.

The Stroller also wonders what havoc the hard times will bring about before spring, at the present rate at which the girls at Residence Hall and other places in town are compelled to borrow clothes.

Jerusalem!! Here comes St. Benedict's—Come along everyone. Let's take 'em. Orders from headquarters are: 500 out for Mother's Day; 5,000 out for Kirksville game; and in the meantime to gently beat Warrensburg if possible.

Rah! Rah! Team!!
the Bears Have Gone

It all came out all right in the rain, for as the final whistle blow, the Bearcats, fighting for the Green and White, against the invading maroon and white, came dragging a 7-0 score off the muddy field, amid the cheers and husky commendations of fellow students, dads, mothers, and loyal Bearcat fans.

Suddenly the dusk of the evening was made brighter and smiles on the faces of those pouring out of the stand grow broader as flares from the cremation of Professor T. H. Cook's famous black hat rose near the north side of the football field. Mr. Cook had made good his promise: the Bearcats had defeated the Bears and there was nothing for him to do but keep his promise and burn his black hat. However he seemed not the least bit sad to part company with his headgear.

President Lamkin expressed it well when, upon his return to the College, he said: "From what I got of the results, 'Dads' Day' must have been a huge success." He added further, "I don't know whether it was because the Bears were defeated, or whether it was just the fact that so many Dads were here."

President Lamkin was right: "Dads' Day" was a huge success. From the time of the pep meeting on Thursday night before the game until the final whistle, which announced the defeat of the Springfield Bears, enthusiasm ran high in the minds and hearts of the students as shown by activities and by the many expressions heard of a sincere desire to win the game.

During the first half of the game, Springfield outplayed the Bearcats and threatened twice to score, but the Bearcats fought on and a score was not chalked up. In the second half, the Bearcats rallied with their attack and with a series of clever forward passes, end runs, and smashing off-tackle plays they approached the Bears' goal line, and after a series of line smashes, Fischer went across the line for the first and only touchdown of the game. The extra point was added by a place kick and after a very few more minutes of play, the game ended—score, Maryville 7, Springfield 0. The game will be given play by play in another issue.

Reserves Win From Clarinda 7 to 6

The "Skunks," College reserve football team, defeated the Clarinda Junior College team 7 to 6 in a preliminary to the Springfield game on Dads' Day.

The Reserves' touchdown was made by Parker, fullback, on straight football. Clarinda scored in the final quarter as a result of a series of forward passes. The attempt for extra point by means of a pass failed, thus losing the game for Clarinda.

The Maryville lineup in the Clarinda game was as follows: quarterback, E. Barnes; fullback, W. Parker; half-backs Mitchell and M. Baker; center, M. Senneh; guards, Bricken and Dunham; tackles, Glover and Dowell; ends, Perkins and R. Burns. Catterson substituted at end and Hindman at guard.

"STUDENT IDEALS—KINDNESS"

Tuesday afternoon in Social Hall, the Y. W. C. A. held its regular weekly meeting. The devotional lesson was read by Margaret Conner. Violet Hunter conducted the third of a series of meetings on the theme "Student Ideals." The sub-theme of the meeting was "Kindness." Following the meeting there was a short get-acquainted period at which time the old members welcomed the new Y. Girls.

Bearcats Meet St. Benedict's Friday

When the Bearcats meet St. Benedict's College, of Atchison, Kansas, in the Homecoming game on the College field Friday afternoon, October 25, they will meet a team which, two years ago, defeated them at Atchison by a 6-0 score.

St. Benedict's was defeated by Peru Teachers 20-0 earlier this season, but on the other hand, the Springfield Bears were able to win from St. Benedict's by the margin of point after touchdown, 7-0.

Both Coach Davis and Coach Iba have seen St. Benedict's play and report that they have a good team and will furnish plenty of opposition for the Bearcats.

Bob Schmidt is the St. Benedict's coach. This is his second year at Atchison. His team is said to be composed of a line averaging over 180 pounds and a back field with much playing experience.

The Bearcats have been training hard this week and working on St. Bene-diet's plays. A large Homecoming crowd is expected to witness the game.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found a list of the St. Benedict's players with their age, weight, position and playing experience.

Bearcat Basketball Activity Is Started

Basketball practice for those who are not out for football started some two weeks ago under the direction of Coach Iba. About fifteen men are working out each evening at the gymnasium.

Three practice games are being planned by Coach Iba before the Christmas holidays. The first game will probably be with Junior College of St. Joseph. Two other games will be scheduled with two teams in the Missouri College Athletic Union, possibly William Jewell or Central College.

After the holidays, the coach plans to take his team on a trip for about six games with teams in Oklahoma. This trip is to be finished in time for the opening of the conference basketball season with the Cape Girardeau Indians on the Maryville court, January 10 and 11.

Among those who are now out for regular practice are Captain Howard Iba; a three year man and brother of the coach; Riley Davison, a member of the 1928 Bearcat team; Clarence Iba, a one-year letterman, and another brother of Coach Iba; Raymond "Curly" McKee, who has had some experience with the Bearcats; Ernest Ellis, who was an all-state guard on the 1925 Bearcat team; K. Swinford, who though not enrolled in the College this quarter, will be in school during the winter term; Merle Taylor, Jack McCracken, and Elmo Wright, all of whom played on Coach Iba's Classen High School team of Oklahoma City, runner-up in the national tournament at Chicago. Charles Finley of Rosendale, Donald Johnson of Pickering, Lowell Bowen of Bolckow, George Manes of Burlington Junction, and Persinger of McFall are also reporting each evening for practice.

N. W. MISSOURIAN CIRCULATION

The Northwest Missourian now goes to thirty-four states and the District of Columbia according to a recent check on the circulation. This is an increase of twelve states over the circulation as announced in the issue of September 26.

In addition to these, two copies of the weekly paper are sent to Hawaii and one to Saskatchewan, Canada. Nearly forty papers are sent to Iowa alone. The other states into which the paper is sent include New Mexico, Washington, California, Idaho, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Colorado, Oregon, Arkansas, District of Columbia, New York, Texas, Louisiana, Florida, Michigan, and Utah.

Clyde Farquhar accompanied his father home Friday evening after the Dads' Day activities to spend the week-end at his home near Burlington Junction.
